There are now 15,500 on strike in Passaid, most of them members of the new organization, representing the woollen, cotton and handkerchief mills and the ribber, wire and cable industries. Four incuansd more probably will be idle tomorrow as a result of a walkout of 2,100 employees of the handkerchief mills. A P. Villa & Brothers' slik mill may have to close early this week. One-third of close early this week. One-third of e operatives are out. Figures furnished by the strikers in ne woollen mills show that they want to norease the wages of dyers and finishers to $0 cents an hour, pressers to $5 cents foremen and clerks to 75 cents and woo enters to 65 cents. They ask that boys and girls employed in the offices be paid from 25 to 85 cents an hour.

Insist on Union's Recognition.

Mr. Pluhar said that recognition of the new union would be insisted on above all else. The organization is purely ocal, he said, and has no connection with United Textile Workers of America the American Federation of Labor or the I. W. W. He said it was proposed to organize every worker in Passaic in or-der to obtain complete unity in the ranks

In some quarters his statement was taken to mean that the workers intended to repeat the Seattle attempt to gain control of the industries of the city.

While Henry J. Skeffington of Boston and Waiter D. Davidge of Washington, commissioners of conciliation from the United States Department of Labor, were conferring with members of the governing board of the New York Building Trades Employers Association yesterday afternoon in hopes of forestalling the impending strike the executive council of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor was in session in the Continental Hotel formulating the strike plans. The Federal mediators went from the conference with the employers to the headquarters of the labor men to be told that the strike had been recommended and would go into effect to-morrow.

"The Department of Labor is manifesting such deep interest in the strike," said Mr. Skeffington, "because there are already too many men idle in the country. Added to this the Government is seeking to stimulate building, and it is to the best interests of the nutrient of the period of the American forces abroad.
